Two separate fresh interim bail applications put up by the filing branch before this court.

One of such applications is filed through Jail Superintendent concerned by the DLSA Central District and the second interim bail application is filed through private counsel.

But at this stage, it is pointed out by the court staff of this designated court that interim bail application of the present applicant / accused is already dealt and allowed yesterday only by this court and that application was also moved by the learned DLSA counsel.

It appears that there is some co-ordination issue and duplication, regarding filing of interim bail application by DLSA under the relaxed criteria prescribed by the Hon'ble High Court before this designated court. As such, a copy of this order be sent to learned Secretary, DLSA Central for her information and necessary action. With these observation, This fresh interim bail application filed by DLSA is disposed off as being infructious as interim bail already granted.

But as far as the application moved by the private counsel is concerned, learned private counsel is apprised that in any case this court is not competent to deal with such application. As such, it is advised to approach concerned duty roster court and such application be sent to concerned duty roaster court at 2:00 PM today itself alongwith copy of order of this court.

Counsel for accused is advised to collect the order online through electronic mode.
